U.S. 84 four-laning project on schedule

by Marvin McLwain, Editor

There was an overflow crowd gathered in the Opp Chamber of Commerce building last Friday to hear an update on the four-laning of U. S. Hwy. 84.

In introducing State Department of Transportation (DOT) Director Mark Roberts, Speaker of the House Seth Hammett commented, "This is the most significant project that we have engaged in here in recent memory. It's impact on our economic future is without parallel ever in our history!"

This four-laning project is the largest single commitment ever made by the Alabama Department of Transportation in the entire state. It consists of 42 miles of highway construction originating in Enterprise passing through Elba, New

Roberts

Brockton, Opp and ending in Andalusia. It contains eleven different parcels or segments of construction which will all be worked simultaneously. Normally, only one segment would be committed for completion during an administration. Governor Don Siegelman has committed that all eleven be completed or at least very close to completion during his administration.

"This is our highway of hope," said Senator Jimmy Holley. "We believe that this will have a tremendous influence on this area of the State of Alabama.

Mack Roberts opened his remarks to the crowd by telling them the Governor was very committed to this project and "he wanted us to very aggressively crank up this highway program... he wanted it to move!"

The director told the crowd that this $100 million project was well underway. He said that in addition to the DOT's engineering staff, five private engineering groups have been brought in to work on this project. "This is the only way that we could make this happen," said Roberts.

He told the crowd it usually takes five to seven years for a federal aid highway project from the time you begin the preliminary engineering and the environmental work until you let a contract for construction.

"We committed to put this project under contract in a short period of time and not just have them designed during this administration, but to have those projects well underway before the Governor's first four years are over," said Roberts.

According to Roberts, the DOT is going to start right-of-way acquisition within the next sixty days all along the 42-mile corridor. The preliminary engineering has been completed and design hearings will be scheduled in the very near future. Property owners will be able to see the specific areas that are affected by the project.

These meetings/hearings will be publicized in the local newspapers and in addition, physical notices will be given to everyone (land and property owners) affected by the project.

The director said the design maps will not be like the generic maps

Byrd's DUI case delayed

by Marvin McLwain, Editor

Once again, Angela Byrd's trial on DUI (Driving Under the Influence) has been delayed. Ms. Byrd is the former chief real property appraiser for Coffee County.

Originally, the trial date was set in District Court for July 19. It was postponed from that date and rescheduled for July 31. On Monday, District Judge Steve Blair recused himself from hearing the case for undisclosed reasons.

The case will now be reviewed by the Presiding Circuit Judge for the 12th Judicial Circuit, who is Judge Robert W. Barr. He will reassign the case to one of the other circuit judges, or District Judge William G. Hightower, or he can hear the case himself. No trial date has been set.

Ms. Byrd was arrested on DUI charges by a Coffee County Sheriff's Deputy on March 1, 2000. At the time of her arrest, she was driving a 1998 Jeep Cherokee which is a county-owned vehicle assigned to the revenue department's mapping and appraisal division.

The Coffee County Commission fired Ms. Byrd after the blood test & urine test sent on independent lab produced a positive result. In addition to traces of marijuana, several other drugs were found in the tests; however, no ethyl alcohol was in her system.

Ms. Byrd also has other unrelated cases pending in the Enterprise Municipal Court.

Britt Lee seeking re-election as Mayor of New Brockton

Britt Lee recently announced his candidacy for re-election as Mayor of the Town of New Brockton in the upcoming municipal elections.

"I would like to express my sincere gratitude to the citizens of New Brockton for allowing me to serve as their mayor for the past four years," said Lee. "The time has gone quickly, and we feel that much has been accomplished, largely due to the close and harmonious working relationship I have enjoyed with the council members, our town clerk and all other employees."

Lee said during the past four years, he and the council met towards the end of every month in a "working session" to discuss any business or issues that might have come to their attention since the last scheduled meeting. He said by doing this, they were able to prepare facts and research information pertinent to the issue before the regular council meeting which allowed the matter to be handled more expeditiously.

J. Larry (Popcorn) Gilbert seeking top spot on Elba City Council

J. Larry (Popcorn) Gilbert recently announced his candidacy for mayor of the City of Elba in the upcoming municipal election.

Gilbert is a lifelong member of the community of Elba. He is a member of the Greater New Zion Baptist Church where he serves on the usher board, is the van driver and helps in any way he can towards the prosperity of the church and community. His pastor is Rev. W.L. Peterson. He is employed by Dorsey Trailers Inc. of Elba.

Gilbert is a family man. He is the father of three children and the grandfather of two. His son is Jonathan Gilbert of Elba, and his daughters are Latoya Gilbert (deceased) and Lynessa D. Gilbert of Gulf Port, Miss. His grandchildren are Moanyssa and Melysha of Gulf Port, Miss. He is the son of Hazel V. Parker, also of Elba.

Gilbert said he is a man of and for the people of Elba. He believes in the love and dedication of the people.

"Together, with God's help, we can move mountains," he said. "It is time for a change. Vote and elect J. Larry (Popcorn) Gilbert for Mayor on August 22."

TRAGEDY AVERTED... Monday morning at approximately 9:42 a.m., Elba E-911 dispatchers received a call that a mobilehome near the Basin Community was on fire and children were inside. Fire departments from Elba and Ino along with Coffee County EMS were immediately dispatched to the residence located just off Co. Rd. 427. Up their arrival, firemen were advised that all occupants of the residence were safe. The home, belonging to Toby and Wendy Chandler, was a total loss. At the time of the fire, only Toby and one of the three small children - a daughter - were at home. Wendy and the other two children had gone to Andalusia. Reportedly, Mr. Chandler was awoken by heat and he grabbed his daughter and made his way to safety. Neither he nor his daughter were seriously injured. Toby suffered from smoke inhalation and his daughter had a small "scratch." Both were taken to Opp Mizell Memorial Hospital by Coffee County EMS to be "checked out." The cause of the fire has not been determined by officials at this time.

Elba City BOE holds special meeting

by Ferrin Cox, Publisher

The Elba City School Board met in special session on Monday evening at 5:30 for the purpose of filling three vacant staff positions. This was done under the emergency hire procedures, in compliance with the non-discrimination terms of the federal lawsuit settlement.

The three people hired are all certified teachers and will fill the respective position for one year. At that time hiring will be reopened and those in the position will not have any advantage over other applicants, due to their year of working within the system.

Hired as an elementary teacher is Jama Windham Hutchinson. Hired as a Writing to Read Aide was Lance McCollough and maintenance responsibilities at the schools and offered suggestions for changes the next time the contract is let out for bids.

Superintendent Danny Weeks told board members that school was ready for opening this week. Teachers will begin in-service training on Wednesday and students will be in school for an abbreviated session on Friday and return for a normal school day on Monday.

Board members questioned Weeks on scheduling and maintenance responsibilities at the schools and offered suggestions for changes the next time the contract is let out for bids.

The Board will hold budget hearings at noon on Wednesday July 9th and at 5:30 p.m. on Thursday, August 10th.

Johnnie F. Herron running for District 1 seat of New Brockton Town Council

Johnnie F. Herron announced that he is seeking election for Town Council - District 1 in New Brockton in the upcoming municipal election.

Herron is the son of the late Dotsey and Lillie Herron, lifetime residents of New Brockton.

He was formerly educated in the New Brockton and Elba High Schools. He holds a Bachelor of Science degree in industrial technology, a Master's degree in administration and supervision and a Rank 1 Status and additional hours toward a Doctorate degree.

Bufus Tillis, Jr. enters race for District Five seat on Elba City Council

Bufus Tillis, Jr. recently announced his candidacy for the District 5 seat on the Elba City Council which will be decided in the upcoming municipal elections.

Tillis, age 41, is married to the former Barbara Gail Walker. He is the father of two adult children, Fabreka and Marcus Tillis. He is a 1977 graduate of Elba High School and a 1999 graduate of Douglas MacArthur State Technical College with a diploma in barbering. He serves as a deacon at Bethlehem Baptist Church of the Danley's Crossroads community.

"Since the early age of my life, I have always been active," said Tillis. "I started to work at the age of 10 at Grimes Oil Company of Danley's Crossroads. I'm a firm believer in being active and dedicated."

At the age of 16, Tillis began working for Burch and Quall Contracting Company during the evenings after school. He started

A number of people have been asking about the status of the proposed new post office in Elba. As can be noted in the legal section of the paper this week, progress is being made, even though it seems slow to some of us. This week - in fact Tuesday - we called the post office folks in Atlanta for a status report. We got the same report: the postal service had given Mayor Grimes a couple of weeks ago. Officially the word is that they are completing the plans and specifications in preparation for soliciting bids on construction and leasing the facility to the postal service. Another question that is often asked and we couldn't answer for sure before now is: "What is the procedure for construction and leasing?" The post office department will have exact plans, including placement on the lot; the successful bidder will buy the property which the postal service has an option on, construct the building under their close supervision and lease the building to the postal service for the previously-agreed-upon number of years and monthly lease factor.

All that appears to mean is that the new post office continues to move forward, even though it is at the department's calculated pace. Our report on the proposed levee rebuild is not as positive.

A check this week in the recorded actions in the official U. S. Senate Journal indicates the U. S. Senate is debating the Energy and Water bill, even though they have not yet posted any written amendments, which is what we are looking for to help Elba. Last Tuesday the Senate debate on this bill centered around some amendment funding work on the Missouri River, by and/or for the Fish and Wildlife Service. It became a Republican-Democrat debate but the final vote seemed to move the bill a step closer to final action. Then on Thursday, July 27, there was a vote on a cloture motion, which passed with the support of both Alabama Senators. We think that allows the bill to move up a step from a subcommittee to a bigger committee and/or the full Senate. Right now they are attending conventions and we are again on hold.

If you have not yet written a letter, made a phone call or sent an e-mail on this matter, please do so as soon as possible. If you didn't save the address from a few weeks ago, give us a phone call and get it again.

The 4-laning of U. S. Highway 84 from Enterprise to Andalusia is moving forward as promised. Last week the Alabama Highway Director addressed a group of about 75 citizens from the surrounding area at the Opp Chamber of Commerce building and gave them the one-two-three of the project. It included buying property by this fall and moving dirt by next year on all 11 segments of the entire project.

It is time for schools to reopen and time to remind our friends and neighbors to please be careful with their driving. The children of Coffee County are all precious and entirely too valuable for any of them to be hurt... or worse.

You haven't had a report on our baby granddaughter lately. But we are going to let you off the hook today also. We are not the first, nor will we be the last proud grandparents - and let's let it go at that.

PSC Commissioner Cook announces Drought Relief Plan for farmers

Alabama Public Service Commissioner Jan Cook recently announced the Jan Cook Drought 2000 Farm Relief Plan to help Alabama Farmers who are served by Alabama Power Company during this very tough time.

"I realize that some farmers will have larger utility bills because of the extremely hot weather and severe drought conditions," Commissioner Cook said. "With beef, cotton, poultry and row crop industry in the straits they are now, I just had to do something."

In an effort to help the Alabama farmer, Commissioner Cook has worked with the Alabama Power Company to devise a plan which will allow the farmer to work out a payment plan suitable to his or her needs.

Anyone wishing to participate in the Jan Cook Drought 2000 Farm Relief Plan needs to contact Commissioner Jan Cook at 1-800-567-2024.

Elba AARP Chapter Meets

The Elba AARP Chapter met on July 25 with Jim Griffin presiding in the absence of the President, Fred Moore. Jimmie Harrison, member of the Elba Chapter of Commerce, reported on what is being done to make Elba more attractive to visitors and people passing through town. He explained the Beautification Grant and how the money was spent for trees around the courthouse square, and for plants along the sidewalks in the downtown area. The group applauded him for his efforts to make Elba more appealing and presented him with a check from the AARP Chapter for one of the sidewalk planters.

A picnic meal was enjoyed by 20 members and guests. Mack and Mary Donaldson were welcomed as new members.

The next meeting will be held on August 15 at 6 p.m. at the Elba Sr. Center with the Diamond Squares, a square dance group from Opp, performing. Anyone over the age of 50 is invited to attend the Elba AARP Chapter meetings.

ton display at the meeting) that have been seen in the past showing the road going from point A to point B, these maps will show exact measurements.

Roberts emphasized the importance of attending these meetings/hearings when they are announced. "At those hearings, sometimes we find out there is something we do not know about a particular area and then we'll make some minor changes," he said.

The director commented that detailed right-of-way maps for the project will also be available for viewing at the DOT's Division Office in Troy.

All of these projects except one are scheduled to go to construction in the year 2001. The one project that has had a slight delay will probably not start until 2002.

In response to a question from the audience, Roberts outlined the procedure for purchase of right-of-way land.

First, the land and/or structures are appraised and an offer is made to the landowner based on that appraisal. If that offer is accepted, the transaction is over. Should the landowner reject the offer by the DOT, they can in turn make the DOT a counteroffer. If that offer is in line and is less than the costs that would be incurred in legal acquisition of the property, the DOT accepts the counteroffer and the transaction is complete.

Should neither of the above actions be acceptable, the condemnation process is begun through the probate courts. Should the amount set by the probate court be acceptable, however, should it be unacceptable, the process evolves to circuit court until it is resolved. The project will not be blocked during the court process - it will continue.

Although the director did not give a specific time as to how long a property owner had to vacate the property once it is acquired, he did say one would be given ample reasonable time to relocate.

In an unrelated project, Sen. Holley asked Division Engineer Mike Griffin to give an update on the Ballard Bridge Project on AL Hwy. 134.

Griffin noted that this too was a "high profile project" since the bridge was the scene of a fiery crash that occurred in January 1998 killing four people.

"We have had some problems with access on to the property over there and these are having to be worked out through the local courts," he said.

Griffin stated that all the design work has been completed and access is expected to be granted within the next six to eight weeks. Right-of-way acquisition should be completed by the Spring of 2001 and contracts let in the Fall of 2001. The actual construction of the bridge will take about two years to complete.

In July 1988, Herron retired and returned to live in his hometown of New Brockton with his wife, Barbara. They have two adult sons and two grandchildren. Johnnie now serves as a deacon, Sunday School teacher, musician and choir director at the Poplar Springs Baptist Church in New Brockton.

Herron said he supports making positive things work for the community such as: water system upgrading, better housing, Senior Citizen welfare and protection, street improvements, recreational facilities, encouraging more business for the area and preparing for possible future state proposed changes in and around the local area that will affect the local economy.

"This will help to make the town a safer and more desirable place to live," said Herron.

He said he has experience working with and for the public and successfully evaluating different situations and issues as the arise.

"I feel I can be an asset to the council by helping to bring some of these projects to reality by careful planning and wise spending," Herron said. LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Letter to Editor:

I am writing this letter to inform the people of your reading area, especially those connected in any way with the military, about an injustice that occurs with disabled retired military veterans.

Disabled retired military veterans have to fund their own disability. They are the only government agency upon which this injustice has been placed; all other agencies, such as DOD Civilians, Postal Workers, DEA, Secret Service and YES, Congress have no off-set.

What is this injustice? It is a US Code which singles out military veterans who receive a disability rating from VA and requires that they fund their own disability. That is done by deducting dollar for dollar from their retirement for any disability they may receive. These are the people who gave their health for their country, and they are rewarded by being singled out to fund their own disability.

There are those in Congress who have been trying to correct this inequity for a number of years. Last year there was a break-through and Congress passed legislation to pay a very small number of the most severely disabled retirees, who at the time of retirement were not disabled, but who suffered catastrophic problems within 4 years after retirement, a small pension of from $100 to $300 monthly. A little is better than nothing and this aided some needful retirees, but at the same time left out the greater number of deserving Veterans who were disabled at retirement or those who were retired because of disabilities.

The US Senate in June 2000 unanimously passed legislation that would rectify this inequity. Now the US House must pass comparable legislation. This legislation should be supported by all Congressmen from Alabama for the following reasons:

Alabama citizens are patriotic, proportionally more sons and daughters from Alabama serve the military than from any other state.

Many military retirees select Alabama to live upon retirement and this legislation would favorably impact their lives.

Let's stop balancing the budget on the backs of those who have given our country the most! IT'S THE RIGHT THING TO DO!

Current budget projections provide a unique opportunity for this to be done now.

All 40 of the National Veterans Organizations, i.e., DAV, Retired Officer Association, Retired Enlisted Association, etc. endorse this issue.

275 Members of the House of Representatives are co-sponsoring this legislation.

I think it's time the people of Alabama ask why some US Congressmen from this state (Bachus, Everett and Hilliard) are not supporting this legislation.

Dear Mr. Cox,

Thanks for printing my letter in regards to the American Legion Culter Post 42. We voted to change the meeting night from the first Thursday to the first Tuesday at 7 p.m. Also voted to reduce rental charges for reunions back to $45, mailing address is PO Box 586.

We would like to urge all members to attend the meetings and help us get working on programs in the future. Members wives are needed in the aux.

Sincerely,
J.L. Edgar - Comm.

ELBA CITY SCHOOLS CODE OF CONDUCT

The Elba City Board of Education is committed to providing an orderly, well disciplined environment in which students can attend school. The school administration is expected to implement this commitment. Students are expected to conduct themselves at all times in a manner that will contribute to the best interest of the school system. Good discipline is extremely important to the total school program and is vital to the development of citizenship. It is anticipated that most discipline problems can be handled between teacher, child, and parents/guardians in a calm, reasonable manner.

Formal Disciplinary Actions

The following is a list of alternative methods for disciplinary action which may be administered by the school principal or his/her designee to students enrolled in the Elba City Schools. Violations of the Code of Conduct may be modified during the school year due to changes in the Alabama State Department of Education procedures.

A. SCHOOL BUS SUSPENSION

A student may be denied the privilege of riding a school bus because of misconduct on the bus for a reasonable and specified period of time. The parents/guardians will be notified in writing of the student's school bus suspension.

B. CORPORAL PUNISHMENT

The use of corporal punishment should follow the use of other corrective measures which have failed to improve student behavior. Prior to the administration of corporal punishment, the student shall be given an opportunity to explain his/her actions. When corporal punishment is required, it shall be administered with care, tact, and caution by the principal or teacher according to board policy. A second member of the professional staff shall be present to serve as witness and shall be informed of the reasons for the punishment prior to it being administered. Corporal punishment shall not be administered in the visual presence of students.

All cases of corporal punishment shall be documented by the person administering the punishment. Included in this documentation should be written explanation of the reasons for the corporal punishment and the name of the witnesses.

Corporal punishment shall not be administered in the presence of visitors. No teacher is allowed to administer corporal punishment for another teacher.

C. OUT-OF-SCHOOL SUSPENSION

A student may be placed on out-of-school suspension by the principal. This disciplinary measure is the removal of a student from school for violation of school policies, rules or regulations, or for otherwise causing interference with or disruption of the orderly operation of the school. Situations which might dictate out-of-school suspension include: 1) procedure for expulsion of student being exercised, 2) presence of student poses an immediate and continuing threat to him/herself, others, and or school property, 3) violation of school regulations. Procedures for out-of-school suspension will be enacted in accordance with Board policy.

D. IN-SCHOOL SUSPENSION PROGRAM (ISS)

The Elba City School In-School Suspension Program consists of a supervised detention area during the school day. This provides for an alternative school setting away from and separate from the regular classroom and student body. Students may be assigned to this program on either a short term (3 days) or term (5 days) basis. Students assigned to ISS will not be allowed to associate with the student body during the period of time they are assigned to this program nor participate in sports, cheerleading, band or any other school activity, nor are they to go on school related trips or outings. Bathroom breaks and lunch breaks will be scheduled at a time that does not conflict with other breaks or lunch periods. Students will be under the constant supervision of the ISS supervisor. Students will be required to complete all assignments from the regular classroom teachers during the time they are confined to the ISS program. The assignments, reports, tests, etc., will be graded by the regular classroom teacher.

Students will not be allowed to talk, confer, walk around, attend assemblies, sleep, use the phone, or leave class while assigned to the ISS room. While a student is assigned to ISS he/she may not drive on campus.

The length of time assigned to the ISS may be extended for any student that fails to abide by or adhere to established ISS rules.

All students assigned to the ISS program will be assigned by the principal or assistant principal for reasons as stated in the Code of Conduct Guidelines given below:

Classification of Violations

Violations of the Code are divided into three classes: Class I - Minor, Class II - Major, and Class III - Terminal. Each classification is followed by a disciplinary procedure to be followed by the principal or his designee.

In the following classes of violations and disciplinary procedures, it is understood that the student will be provided with due process before any disciplinary action is taken.

CLASS I - MINOR OFFENSE

- 1.01 Distraction of other students - any behavior that alters the teaching process of the classroom or educational activity.
- 1.02 Quarreling, minor harassment.
- 1.03 Use of profane or obscene language.
- 1.04 Non-conformity to dress code - any dress that is disruptive to the educational setting or is a hazard to the health or safety of the student.

Knight earns certified internal auditor designation

Kenneth W. Knight was named recently as a Certified Internal Auditor (CIA) by the Institute of Internal Auditors (IIA). The CIA designation is awarded to internal audit professionals who have met the rigorous requirements of the IIA's CIA Program, including a four-part examination, as well as high standards of character, education and experience.

The CIA exam, administered twice a year in several languages, was given in May 2000 to approximately 7,000 candidates at 208 sites in 58 countries around the world. Of these candidates, approximately 1,100 have completed the examination requirement and are eligible to become Certified Internal Auditors. The CIA exam reflects the current state of the art in internal auditing and evaluates technical competence in important subject areas related to internal auditing.

The more than 29,000 Certified Auditors worldwide are members of a recognized professional group and benefit from rapid career advancement and greater acceptance in the role as advisor to management.

Kenneth, the son of Franklin and Antoinette Knight of Elba, was born in Elba in 1964 and graduated from Elba High School in 1982. He graduated from Auburn University in 1987 with a BS degree in business administration (finance). He is married to Marlene Hill Knight, a native of Dalton, Ga. Knight to Metro Atlanta in 1997 from Charlotte, N.C. He is currently employed as Senior Operations Auditor with the Georgia Lottery Corporation.

AND WHO HAVE PAID ONE OR MORE LATE FEES OF $5.00 OR MORE IN CONNECTION WITH THAT SERVICE, PLEASE READ THIS NOTICE CAREFULLY. IT MAY AFFECT YOUR RIGHTS. THIS IS NOT A LAWSUIT AGAINST YOU. YOU MAY BENEFIT FROM READING THIS NOTICE.

More than twenty class action lawsuits concerning late charges imposed by the cable television providers listed above and by other cable television providers (collectively designated hereinafter as the "Cable Television Defendants") are now pending in courts in the States of Indiana, Alabama, Colorado, Delaware, Florida, Georgia, Idaho, Illinois, Louisiana, New Mexico, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Tennessee, and Utah. The parties to those cases have reached a global settlement of the claims against the Cable Television Defendants, pursuant to which they have agreed to dismiss most of the lawsuits and to ask a single court (the court in Little Rock, Arkansas, in Case No. 55D01-9709-CP-415, Superior Court No. 1, Morgan City, Indiana) to certify a multistate settlement class of the Cable Television Defendants' subscribers and to consider the fairness of the proposed settlement. The court in Little Rock has agreed to certify the multistate settlement class and has preliminarily approved the settlement. If you subscribed or now subscribe to cable television in any of the communities listed above, and if you paid at least one late fee of $5.00 or more in connection with that service, you are a member of the Settlement Class, and you may be affected by the settlement.

I. SUMMARY OF THE LITIGATION
 The class action complaints allege that the Cable Television Defendants' "late fees" are or were unlawful, excessive, or unreasonable. The Cable Television Defendants deny those allegations, they contend that the fees are a fair and lawful means of collecting from late-paying subscribers the costs caused by late payment. The merits of the parties' dispute have not been decided by a court. The parties have reached a proposed settlement that will resolve the claims of all class members who have paid a "late fee," "administrative fee," or "processing fee" to the Cable Television Defendants of $5.00 or more. The Little Rock court will conduct a fairness hearing to decide whether the settlement is reasonable and fair to the class.

II. SUMMARY OF SETTLEMENT TERMS
 If the settlement is approved and the other conditions to the settlement are satisfied, current customers of the Cable Television Defendants will receive a Product Certificate which may be submitted as payment in full for certain premium cable television services by class members who have paid at least one late fee of $5.00 or more within the last four years. The premium services consist of either two (2) pay-per-view movies or, for certain subscribers who lack the capacity to view pay-per-view, one (1) month of HBO, Showtime, or Cinemax or three (3) months of Starz and Encore. Those class members who do not have a converter box will also be able to obtain free use of an analog box for two months. Class Members who are not current customers, who have paid at least one late fee of $5.00 or more within the last four years, and who submit a properly completed Claim Form, and certain current customers who both lack the ability to receive pay-per-view and who already subscribed to all of the premium channels, will receive, in lieu of the premium cable television services described above, a check for $6.95 or an equivalent credit against any balance owed to their cable television provider. If the settlement is approved, the Cable Television Defendants will also be ordered to eliminate any current late fee of $5.00 or more imposed when an invoice has remained unpaid for thirty to forty-five days, and to substitute either (1) a lower fee of $2.95 (when an invoice has remained unpaid for thirty days), coupled with a second fee of $2.00 (if the invoice remains unpaid for an additional two weeks), or (2) a single combined fee of $4.95, which may be imposed only if an account has remained unpaid for at least forty-five days. Subject to the Court's approval, the Cable Television Defendants will also pay plaintiffs' attorneys fees in the multi-state settlement actions (in the maximum amount of $6,025,000) and reasonable and necessary costs incurred on behalf of the Settlement Class (in the maximum amount of $480,000) and will pay class representative compensation. In return for the consideration summarized above, the Settlement Class Members will release all claims against the Cable Television Defendants relating to their practice of charging a late fee of $5.00 or more at any time prior to the Effective Date of the Settlement. Provided that all of the conditions to the settlement are satisfied (including the dismissal of other pending late fee-related actions and court approval of the global settlement in another jurisdiction), the claims of Settlement Class members arising out of late fees of at least $5.00 will be resolved through this settlement. Claims arising from late fees of less than $5.00, in contrast, will not be resolved through this settlement.

III. YOUR OPTIONS AS A SETTLEMENT CLASS MEMBER.
 1. You Can Remain A Member Of The Settlement Class. If you wish to remain a member of the Settlement Class, and have no objections to the settlement, you do not have to do anything at this time. Your interests as a class member will be represented by plaintiffs' counsel. You will not be responsible for any legal fees or costs.
 2. You May Object To The Terms Of The Settlement. Settlement Class members may object to the settlement by filing a written Objection and a Notice of Intention To Appear with the Clerk, Morgan Superior Court No. 1, P.O. Box 1556, Martinsville, IN 46151. A copy of any such Objection and Notice of Intention to Appear must be mailed to class counsel addressed as follows:

Vincent L. DiTommaso, Esq.
 Peter S. Lubin, Esq.
 DiTommaso & Associates, P.C.
 1315 West 22nd Street
 Oak Brook, Illinois 60523

Any Objections must state the specific grounds for your objection, your full name, your current mailing address, the case name, docket number, and date, time and place of the hearing. In order to be considered by the Court, your written Objection must be filed with the Clerk of the Court and mailed to class counsel (at the addresses listed above) no later than September 20, 2000 (date to be fifteen (15) business days in advance of the fairness hearing).

3. You Can Represent Yourself. If you wish to remain a member of the Settlement Class but do not wish to be represented by plaintiffs' counsel, you may enter an appearance yourself (in "propria persona") or through your own attorney. To do so, you must file an Entry of Appearance with the Clerk of Morgan Superior Court No. 1, P.O. Box 1556, Martinsville, IN 46151 and deliver copies to class counsel (at the address listed above).

4. You Can Request Exclusion From The Settlement Class. You can exclude yourself from the Settlement Class by sending a written request for exclusion to the class counsel identified above. Your request for exclusion from the Settlement Class must be signed by you personally, must state your full name, current address, and must specifically state that you request exclusion from the Settlement Class. In order to be valid, your request for exclusion must be mailed to class counsel (listed above) no later than September 20, 2000 (date to be fifteen (15) business days in advance of the final approval hearing). If you exclude yourself from the settlement, and the settlement is approved, you will not be entitled to the benefits of the settlement; you will instead retain the ability to sue the Cable Television Defendants on your own. The Cable Television Defendants released by the settlement agreement.

IV. HOW THE SETTLEMENT AFFECTS YOUR RIGHTS
 The settlement, if approved, will resolve the Settlement Class's claims relating in any manner to late fees of $5.00 or more assessed by, or paid to, the Cable Television Defendants, and will end the litigation against the Cable Television Defendants relating to those fees. If you do not exclude yourself from the Settlement Class, you will be deemed to have released any claims against the Cable Television Defendants related to their late fees of $5.00 or more, and you will be bound by the terms of the Settlement Agreement and any Final Judgment entered.

If the settlement is approved by the Court, the Settlement Actions will end and the settlement terms will be implemented. Settlement-Class Members who paid late fees of less than $5.00, whose claims are not being released through the settlement, will retain the option of initiating litigation regarding the payment of such fees. If the settlement is not approved by the Court or does not become final for some other reason, the Settlement Actions, including claims arising from late fees of $5.00 or more, will continue.

V. FINAL SETTLEMENT APPROVAL HEARING
 The Court will hold a hearing on October 11, 2000 at 9:00 a.m. in the Morgan County Superior Court No. 1, before the Honorable G. Thomas Gray, to determine whether the settlement should be approved as fair, reasonable and adequate. The courthouse is located at Courthouse Square, Martinsville, IN 46151. The hearing date may be changed without further notice to the Settlement Class. You need not appear at any hearing unless you have timely filed an objection.

VI. FOR MORE INFORMATION
 This notice summarizes the settlement terms. For the precise terms and conditions of the settlement, you are referred to the detailed Settlement Agreement and Release (attached as Exhibit A to the Declaration of Richard R. THE PRESSBOX

By Ricky Mularz, Sports Editor

My idea of a relaxing vacation would be to take a few days off work, lean back in my recliner and watch every sporting event I could find on the tube. Well, my vacation was last week, but instead of relaxing in my recliner I drove the family a total of 2,300 miles on a round trip visit to see my brother in Maryland, and while on vacation got the chance to drive in such places as Baltimore, Washington D.C., Richmond, Chattanooga and Atlanta. The bypass in Enterprise has too much traffic for me, but we did make it there and back safely, and I did get the chance to recline for a few hours before heading back to work. I don't know how much more fun this is! Dad could have stood!

BOUNCING AROUND THE SPORTS SCENE

 The high school football season is less than a month away, and while taking a look at the schedules of the area teams, it was obvious to see that the new schedule will bring with it many new faces for area fans to see.

The Elba Tigers dropped such long time rivals as Brantley, Andalusia and Geneva to pick up non-region opponents Samson, Highland Home and Trinity. The trio of teams no longer on the schedule were some of the bigger gates from years past, but I guess when you are down, sometimes wins are just as important as money. The Elba fans better hope the price of gas goes down, because road games are set for Flomaton, Washington County and Gulf Shores. I don't know if the Tigers will fare any better with their new revamped schedule, but the fans will get to see some new teams, and travel to some new places.

The New Brockton Gamecocks dropped two tough opponents in Luverne and Straughn, as well as long time rival Arton. New teams on the slate for the Gamecocks will include Cottonwood, Houston County, Houston Academy and Slocomb, while Geneva County, Wickburg and Samson will join the region fight. With a balanced schedule, and no real road trips, the 2000 schedule appears very favorable for the Gamecocks and their fans.

The Brantley Bulldogs erased seven teams from their '99 schedule, including such rivals as Elba, Georgiana, Goshen and McKenzie, and will get the chance to help region opponent Pleasant Home inaugurate its new varsity program. G.W. Long could provide the Bulldogs with some resistance; however, with other region foes like Kinston, Arton, Florida and Zion Chapel, it could be yet another banner season for the 'Dogs.

The Zion Chapel Rebels dropped Thorby, Isabella and Houston Academy from last year's slate, and filled in the blanks with Houston County, Pleasant Home and McKenzie. The Rebels will have its hands full with region foes such as Brantley, Florida, Arton and G.W. Long, but closes with Kinston and McKenzie, and gets the week off in week 47. Not a bad schedule for the men from Jack.

The Kinston Bulldogs also saw only three teams move off their schedule, with the trio being Wickburg, Red Level and Straughn. New faces on the Bulldogs' slate this year will include Pleasant Home and Brantley, and neither will be an easy task. Kinston plays four of its first five games at home, but then is on the road for the final four outings. At least there are no long road trips.

 It was business as usual for the Atlanta Braves last week as they accomplished very little as the trading deadline came and went. With the worst bullpen in the Major Leagues, I had some hopes that the Braves "self proclaimed" baseball geniuses would go out and get a stopper. Instead, they signed a pitcher that was cut by the Rockies, and an outfielder from the Orioles that maybe at least will knock Bobby Bonilla out of the lineup. I have watched the Braves play a great deal lately, and just can't believe that they did very much to help their own stock in the National League.

 The Elba Department of Parks and Recreation and the Elba Recreation Board will host a public meeting next week to discuss plans to start soccer this fall, as well as discuss its plans to switch to fast-pitch softball next spring. Both matters have created quite a stir among interested people, and the purpose of the meeting is to get the public's opinion on both matters, and other recreation plans for the future. Everyone that is interested in recreation in Elba should try and attend this meeting so your voice can, and will be heard.

 While I was on vacation, I read about a parent that killed another parent after a disagreement about unnecessary rough play in a youth ice hockey game. The guy that killed the man pleaded not guilty because he said the other man "started it!" He should have told that to one of the victim's children that climbed into the coffin with his Dad and see if it made him feel any better. I know it was an isolated incident. However, it should make all parents stop and think just how bad things can get just watching kids play sports.

 In closing, I would like to congratulate Ken English on being named the head basketball coach at Malone, Florida. Malone has won six state championships over the past ten years, and with Coach English joining the ranks, I am sure the success of the program will continue. Good luck, Ken.

Elba Tigers face seven new opponents

Area high school football schedules feature new look for 2000 season

The 2000 high school football season will kick off in just four weeks, and area football fans might need to invest in a football schedule, as well as a map, as all teams in the area have drastically changed their schedules for the upcoming season.

The season will kick off on Friday, September 1, with the regular season to continue through November 3.

The Elba Tigers moved into Class 3A, Region 1, this season, and the Tigers schedule will include a total of seven teams that weren't on the Tigers' schedule from just a year ago. Gone from last season's nine-game schedule are Brantley, Clayton, Andalusia, Slocomb, Geneva and Geneva County, while newcomers include Samson, Flomaton, Highland Home, W.S. Neal, Washington County, Gulf Shores and Trinity.

The Kinston Bulldogs will also face a nine-game schedule, and will play only two teams that weren't on their slate from a year ago. The Bulldogs' new opponents will be County, Pleasant Home, while gone from last year's schedule are Wickburg and Straughn. Kinston will battle against region foes in Arton, Florida, Brantley, Pleasant Home, G.W. Long and Zion Chapel, with its only long road trip coming in week #6, when the Rebels travel to Pleasant Home.

The New Brockton Gamecocks have also conducted a major reshuffling of their schedule, with four new opponents dotting their schedule. The new opponents include Cottonwood, Houston County, Houston Academy and Slocomb, while gone from the '99 slate are Luverne, Arton, Straughn and Florida. Region foes for the Gamecocks include Wickburg, Cottonwood, Geneva County, Houston County, Houston Academy and Slocomb, while the Gamecocks' closest thing to a road trip will come against Houston County, in Columbia.

Regions are new, schedules are new and new rivalries will be born this season, which should make the 2000 season one of the most interesting in many, many years!

Sports reporters needed for high school football season

The Elba Clipper "Sports Department" is now accepting applications for sports reporters to help with the newspapers' coverage of area high school football games this season.

The reporters would be expected to make action photographs at the games, as well as provide game statistics and a brief recap of the contest.

Former Elba softball standout is headed for national tournament

Leslie C. Flowers, a former Elba All-Star, will be heading to Columbus, Ga., later this week to compete with the Ocean Springs Lil' Hounds at the National Amateur Softball Association's "10 and Under" National Softball Tournament.

The national tournament will take place on August 3-5, and Flowers is expected to play a major role in the Lil' Hounds success as they attempt to improve on last year's fifth place national finish. The Lil' Hounds won the Mississippi state championship on July 8 to earn a berth in this week's national tournament.

Flowers played on the Elba "10 and Under" All-Stars for two years, and continued her success on the field this season in helping the Lil' Hounds claim their second straight Mississippi state championship. She is the daughter of Pamela Flowers, of Ocean Springs, Miss., and Cortez Moore, of Samson, and is the granddaughter of Buddy Flowers, of Opp, and Lillie Flowers, of Enterprise. She is the great-granddaughter of Mrs. Eva Mae Flowers, of Elba.

Elba junior high football team to hold meeting today at 5:30

Recreation meeting to seek public opinion

The Elba Department of Parks and Recreation and the Elba Recreation Board will sponsor a public meeting on Tuesday, August 8, at 7:00 PM, at the Elba Recreation Center, to receive public input on the department's plans to begin a youth soccer league, its plans to change from slow-pitch softball to fast-pitch softball and other recreation facilities and activities.

"We have been planning to start a youth soccer program for a number of years," stated Elba Recreation Director Ricky Mularz, "and have made the commitment to begin the program this fall, if it will have the support of the community. We are planning to make the switch to fast-pitch softball next spring, and also want everyone involved in the girls softball program to come out next week and let us hear what you think of the proposed change. The Elba Department of Parks and Recreation exists to offer recreation opportunities for the citizens of Elba, and we urge everyone to come out to this meeting and let us hear from you on what you think, and other improvements that you believe are needed in the overall program."

The meeting will be held in the gymnasium of the Recreation Center, located at 764 North Claxton Avenue, in Elba.

MELISSA GRANTHAM

County trio shines at All-Star week softball games

The All-Star Sports Week was held recently in Montgomery, and while the South dropped two straight lopsided games to the North in slow-pitch softball, a trio of Coffee County players turned in excellent performances.

Melissa Grantham, of Elba, got two hits in the second game of the series as the South fell 19-5, while in the series opener New Brockton's Brittany Mobley collected one hit in a 15-3 setback.

Grantham and Mobley also recorded one put-out each in the opening game, while Elba's Vaughn Boyd turned in a solid two-game performance.

Using smaller boats requires attention to capacities and balance

Understanding small boats and learning how to handle them can increase the enjoyment of everyone aboard your boat. Consider these small boat tips before you launch.

(1) Load your boat properly. Overloading a small boat or loading it improperly can cause it to capsize. Small boats usually have little freeboard, the distance between the top of the gunwale and the waterline. Thus, overloaded and improperly loaded small boats can take on water. The maximum capacity of your boat appears on the boat's capacity plate. Heeding the maximum weight for persons, motors and gear is important because your boat can easily exceed your small boat's maximum capacity before you get everything you want to take on board. Loading a small boat improperly occurs frequently, too, especially when anglers fish alone. For example, say you weigh 180 pounds, the engine weighs 70 pounds, the full 6-gallon gas tank weighs 45 pounds, and your battery weighs about 40 pounds. That's 335 pounds. Your boat isn't overloaded. But if you placed all this heavy equipment within easy reach in the boat stern, your boat would be loaded improperly. The boat stern would lay too low in the water and the resulting high bow might restrict forward visibility.

(2) Wear a life jacket. Wearing a U.S. Coast Guard-approved PFD (personal flotation device) is especially important. If you fall overboard suddenly and unexpectedly, wearing a PFD gives you the best chance to stay up in the water long enough to gather your wits and affect your own rescue. This advantage is the main reason why wearing a life jacket is so important. There's an overwhelming safety difference between just having a life jacket available in your boat, as most laws for small boats require, and actually wearing one. Many anglers choose to wear Type III vest-like personal flotation devices because they are more comfortable to wear than Type I or Type II devices. These kinds of PFDs are readily available in marine supply stores, mail order firms and tackle shops. They come in a wide choice of stylish colors and sizes to fit just about everyone. Many Type IIIs feature pockets, which let the devices double as fishing vests. Many anglers say that pained Type III life jackets are the most comfortable. The more panels, they contend, the more comfortable the life jacket is to wear. When you shop for a PFD, read the life jacket's label. It tells you its size and type, and if the PFD is U.S. Coast Guard approved.

(3) Stay seated. It's more enjoyable, less tiring, and safer to fish sitting down. Try it a few times and it will become a habit. Small boats are not meant to stand up in. Fishing from a small boat offers many advantages. They're economical, easy to tow, and virtually maintenance-free. The best way to enjoy fishing in a small boat is to understand their special characteristics and become an experienced operator.

Elba United Methodist Church Youth raise money for others

The Elba United Methodist Church had a very successful Vacation Bible School recently. The VBS had a theme - "Kids Called to Care."

The preteen class heard that there was still slavery in the world today. Children were being sold as slaves in Sudan, Africa. A Christian human rights organization decided to do something about it. The students learned that $35 would free one slave.

Each of the preteen students encouraged parents and friends to help by bringing empty soft drink cans. Pastor John Baxter took the cans to a recycling station and sold them. A check was sent to the human rights organization along with letters written by each student. They raised more over $35 dollars along with help from the church, and this continues to be an ongoing project for the youth.

Below are some of the letters written by the youth to Dr. D. James Kennedy, who made them aware of the slavery conditions in Sudan through a letter he sent to Joe and Martha Guerrero.

Dear Dr. Kennedy,
 I am so glad that you have told us about the Christians that were being used as slaves in Sudan. We have been saving cans and collecting money to free the Christians. I am so thankful for what you have done. Your friend,
 Evan Tew

Dear Dr. Kennedy,
 We have been saving soda cans to be able to save a Sudan slave. We're trying to raise $35.00 or more. It's truly sad that the Muslims are starving and killing Christians. I'm so glad that you're trying to save those kids. Our prayers are with you.

McGuirt receives medical degree

The University of South Alabama held its commencement ceremonies for the 2000 College of Medicine graduates on May 6.

Among receiving their medical degrees was Aron Scott McGuirt of Daleville. McGuirt is the son of James and Linda Allen McGuirt of Daleville and the grandson of Mr. Cliff Allen and the late Beulah Allen of Elba.

During the day's events, graduates were "hooded" in an honors convocation ceremony. McGuirt received their diplomas and took the Hippocratic Oath during the graduation ceremony. McGuirt was awarded the Charles W. Urschel Achievement Award in Physiology during the Honors Convocation ceremony.

Before entering medical school, he earned a Bachelor of Science degree in biomedical sciences and a Ph.D. at the university. His plans now are to continue his medical education in the Surgery Residency Program at the University of South Florida in Tampa, Fla.

Morrow retires from Dorsey after 41 years

by Linda Hodge, Staff Writer

Although Paul Morrow has chosen to enter retirement after 41 years of service with Dorsey Trailers in Elba, his fellow employees will not soon forget the marks he has left on their lives both professionally and personally.

"When I think of Paul, I am reminded of a famous quote made by Vince Lombardi," said Melonoe Blair, Morrow's administrative assistant for the past seven years. "That quote is Paul. It better describes him than anything I could say myself."

The quote says, "The quality of a person's life is in direct proportion to their commitment to excellence, regardless of their chosen field of endeavor."

Blair said no one could ever doubt Morrow's commitment in both his professional and personal endeavors, and he has proven that since the day he first came to Dorsey Trailers.

It was Aug. 5, 1959 when Morrow first stepped through the doors of the company to begin working as an assistant to the chief industrial engineer. He was only 21 years of age and had no way of knowing where his career would take him over the next 41 years. However, those around him had no trouble in seeing what direction he was headed.

Peggy Stroud, who began her career at Dorsey Trailers about the same time as Morrow, wrote a tribute in honor of Morrow's retirement in which she said he always worked with such "persistence in searching out every detail and making sure everything was as accurate as it could be."

With those work ethics, it was no surprise that Morrow continued to move up the ladder during his career. On Dec. 1, 1964, he was promoted to material coordinator. On April 1, 1969, he was promoted to assistant director of purchasing and later on to director of purchasing. In Oct. of 1983, he was promoted to vice president - general manager; and on March 19, 1987, he was promoted to the position of vice president - administration which he retired from.

Morrow's retirement is also significant to the company's history in that he is the last of the group involved in the leveraged buyout of Dorsey's in the late 80s to leave the company.

"To me, Paul is a legend," said Blair. "There are very few people today that have his work ethics as well as family values."

She said these days people seem to think that the company owes them something, but Morrow has always worked under the idea that he owes the company something. And, even though he has always been known for his desire to have things done just right, Blair said he has also shown a lot of patience with her through the years.

"I didn't know anything in this area of the business when I started working with Paul," she said. "I didn't even know how to use a word processor, but he was willing to allow me to learn these things to work with him."

She said he made her transformation into the job much easier than it could have been and for that he has become a good mentor and apprentice for her.

And, Blair said she is glad to know that Paul will continue to serve as a consultant for the company. This will be an advantage not only for Blair but for Doug Allgood, vice president of human resources, who will assume some of the responsibilities of Morrow's job.

"You could never replace Paul," Allgood said. "You come in and do the best you can with some of the things he's done and hope it's half as good."

He said coming into a role of backfill for someone who has been around for some 40 years is quite an undertaking, and he is glad that Morrow will only be a "phantom" call away.

"Paul is a great guy," said Allgood. "He cares so much about not only his work but the community and the people who are a part of the community. He has an intensity that is unsurpassed in getting things done."

Blair said even though Morrow has always very much been a company man, he has also very much been a man for the employees. She said he is always fair when it comes to looking at both sides of the issue.

Harold Bannin announces candidacy for re-election to District 3 seat

Harold Bannin recently announced his candidacy for re-election to the Elba City Council, District 3 in the upcoming municipal election.

"I want to thank the people in District 3 for giving me the opportunity to serve them the past four years," said Bannin. "I look forward to doing it again if it is God's will for my life."

Bannin said there have been many things accomplished in the last four years through good and bad times in Elba. He said it was nothing he himself could brag about since it was all a joint effort by the leaders and employees alike.

"There cannot be enough said about everyone that helped each other during the flood," Bannin said.

He said there are still issues about the levee that everyone wants the federal government to address according to their promises.

Bob Hahn running for District 5 seat on Elba City Council

Bob Hahn recently announced his candidacy for the position of council person for District 5 on the Elba City Council in the upcoming municipal election.

Bob has been a resident of Elba for 19 years and is married to the former Syble King Moore. He and his wife have four daughters, of which three are school teachers and one is a pharmacist. Bob is an active member of the Westside Baptist Church and the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Hahn's motto is "a voice of the people." He said that working for the people of Elba has always been a pleasure. He has always volunteered where the needs are, giving many weeks of hard work following all three floods in the 90s and when the hurricane struck the city.

"If elected, I will try to be alert to the needs of the city and its people and serve them to the best of my ability," said Hahn.

Harold Bannin

"If re-elected, I will continue to do what is right according to God's Word," said Bannin. "I think that a person without God's council would not make a good council person."

Yellow Dog Democrat Bill Stokes honored

by Marvin McIlwain, Editor

On Monday, a reception was held at the courthouse in Elba, the county seat of Coffee County, for Jackson W. "Bill" Stokes, indisputably the top "Yellow Dog Democrat" in the county. The main courtroom was overflowing with friends and relatives who came to pay tribute to the man who has served his party for more than fifty years. Stokes, until recently, has been the chairman of the Coffee County Democratic Party. He also served two terms (1951-1958) in the Alabama House of Representatives. In addition to being honored for his years of public service, Stokes was presented with two replacement House composites (group picture of legislators serving in each of the two terms of office with Stokes) which were either damaged or destroyed by floodwaters.

Mike Weeks, a long-time friend of Stokes', had noticed during one of his many visits to Bill's office that the 1955-58 composite was damaged and the 1951-54 was missing. He immediately contacted Beth Thacker, House of Representative Historian, and the search was on. They managed to locate the two composites and Ms. Thacker made the presentation to Stokes.

During the occasion, Circuit Judge Gary L. McAllely, reminisced about his first encounter with Stokes. It was while trying one of his first court cases after graduating from law school.

He said Alabama had just adopted a Uniform Commercial Code (UCC) and at that time, many of the state's attorneys and judges had unfavorable opinions of the code. McAllely was involved in a case in which he had to argue why the UCC was applicable and the attorney representing the opposing view was none other than Jackson W. "Bill" Stokes.

McAllely, after Stokes entered the Elba Courtroom accompanied by his faithful companion, a yellow dog, said he was very impressed with Stokes. It was while trying one

Ronnie Hammond seeking re-election to District 5 seat on Elba City Council

Ronnie Hammond recently announced his candidacy for re-election to the District 5 seat on the Elba City Council.

Hammond is a 1968 graduate of Mulberry High School of Elba and a 1970 graduate of Douglas MacArthur Technical College with a diploma in auto body. He is a local business man and has owned and operated Hammond's Body Shop since 1972. He has operated at the same location up to the present day. Ronnie is a member of Greater New Zion Baptist Church where he serves as a Deacon and on the Trustee Council. He served 12 years with the Alabama National Guard in Elba and was discharged at the rank of Staff Sergeant.

Hammond was appointed to the board of directors of the Elba Chamber of Commerce where he served out the term of another director who served on the industrial board until he was elected to the
